

“Keep a Baby Warm”

“Keep a Baby Warm” is a collaborative project of Durham County Cooperative Extension and the Butner Federal Correctional Center in Butner, North Carolina.

Inmates at the Butner Federal Correction Center will crochet afghans to be distributed during the holiday season through Cooperative Extension to appropriate Durham County families and charities. Please help the “Keep a Baby Warm” project by donating yarn. Any remaining yarn will be used by the inmates to make teddy bears for children in local hospitals and for future projects.

You may send or bring yarn to:
